J. L. DANA, Secretary.
July 22, 1910.

Grand Trunk Strike Off

The strike of conductors, trainmen and yardmen, which began on the Grand Trunk and Central Vermont systems on July 18, was officially called off Tuesday night. Under the terms of the agreement signed by President Hays, for the railroads and all the union officials, the men will receive, dating back to May 1 of this year, an advance of approximately 18 per cent, and beginning January 1, 1912, a rate of wages, slightly below the Eastern schedule for which they struck, but an advance in many instances of over 30 per cent.

BARNARD.

The annual sale and entertainment of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Universalist church will be held in the town hall on Wednesday evening, August 10th, from 7 to 12 o'clock. A pleasing program has been arranged for the occasion, including a musical entertainment and a play, "Old Acre Folks," under the direction of the Flower brothers. The usual articles will be on sale at the various booths.

William L. Switzer, of Norwich, a farmer, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Switzer has liabilities of $4,564 and assets of $318, of which $310 is exempt.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Woodstock in an Historical Pageant

An historical pageant illustrating many of the scenes and striking incidents in the life of Woodstock from the early days to the present time will be presented at Music hall Thursday evening, August 18. Much time has been spent in preparation and in securing material for the pageant and the success of the first spectacle of this kind given in Woodstock seems assured.

Two Inches of Rain.

Two inches of rain fell Thursday, beginning in the early morning, being the first storm worth talking about since June 11, more than six weeks.

The demonstration began soon after midnight with much thunder and lightning, but it wasn't all fireworks, for rain fell steadily well into the forenoon. By ten o'clock, over an inch was measured and occasional heavy showers during the day doubled the amount.

The above figures are from Observer Gearing's record. J. S. Eaton's official gauge recorded 2.22 inches of rain.

Only about one inch of rain fell during the month of July.

Dewey Mills reported three inches of rain at noon Thursday.

Last Call For Old Home Sunday

Next Sunday is Old Home Day at the Universalist church. For the past month preparations have gone steadily forward to make the day one worthy of the occasion. The pastor will preach in the morning at 10:30. His theme will be "The Church and Modern Life." At 2 o'clock the Reminiscent meeting will take place.

An interesting letter has been received from Rev. L. C. Crosby of Dorchester, Mass., who preached here thirty years ago, which will be read at this service. A letter has also been received from Dr. Edward Lockwood of Portland, Me., a former resident of the town and at one time a member of the choir. This will also be read. We hope to see every Universalist in the town of Woodstock, friends of our faith from adjoining towns, and all other friends who can come. All will be most welcome.

Does Anybody Here Know Horan?

Wednesday's New York papers reported a serious accident to James Horan, 32 years of age, whose residence is given as Woodstock, Vt. He was found lying in the road on West 5th Street, Coney Island, early Wednesday morning by Arthur Bowley, who is chauffeur for Cornelius Fellowes of 69 West 66th street, Manhattan. The man was almost unconscious, and was suffering from several wounds that had evidently been caused by his being run over by an automobile.

Rowley lifted Horan into his car and took him to the Coney Island hospital, where it was found that he had sustained contusions of the chest and many other injuries. He was unable to give any account of how he had been injured.

Inquiries here fail to reveal any knowledge of "James Horan," and it is probable that he hails from another state.

BASE BALL

Tigers 7, Bulldogs 5

Tuesday evening's game in the Maple Syrup League series was another victory for the Golf Avenue Tigers, Manager Taylor's prize combination, over the High Street Bulldogs, steered by Henry Whitcomb. It was a whirlwind finish. The Tigers didn't find it easy picking, however, and up to the fourth inning the Bulldogs seemed to have the game sewed up for keeps. A grand rally by the Taylorites turned the trick—assisted by the gathering darkness, when you could hardly see the Tigers' stripes. In the fourth young Mr. Marsh took his base on balls; Pleasant followed in a walk to first; another Tiger reached first somehow, and a wallop by Woods sent all three men across the plate, with scores enough to win.

Wyatt and Woods made a strong battery for the Tigers. McFarlane, formerly of the Barton League team, was shifted to first, where he showed considerable form, and there were one or two other shakeups. Prior and Mitchell composed the Bulldog battery, and more than held the enemy until the fatal fourth inning when the High Streeters blew up.

The game between the South Street Pirates and the winners of Tuesday evening's battle, scheduled for Thursday, was postponed on account of wet grounds.

Dr. Bates in Jail

Dr. Charles W. Bates of Ludlow, who eloped from Ludlow July 6, with Susan A. Barrett, a trained nurse, of Rutland, was brought to the county jail Thursday evening by Deputy Sheriff James McDonald. Dr. Bates, who has a wife in Ludlow, and Miss Barrett were arrested in Kansas City and taken to Ludlow by Boston detectives who had been on the case since the couple's disappearance. Dr. Bates was arrested on the charge of taking mortgaged property out of the state of Vermont without the consent of the mortgagees, the property in question being an automobile belonging to Mrs. Bates, which he had mortgaged for $950.

Dr. Bates and Miss Barrett were turned over to the Ludlow officers and were given a preliminary hearing before Justice Pinney to answer charges of a statutory offense. They waived examination and are held for trial at the next town of Windsor county court.

Miss Bertha A. Coburn of Rutland furnished bail for Miss Barrett, but Dr. Bates, whose bail was fixed at $1000, was unable to raise the sum.

S. H. Stafford of Rutland appeared as counsel for Miss Barrett and S. E. Emery of Proctorsville for Dr. Bates.

Dr. Bates made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide at Pana, Ill., Miss Barrett having summoned physicians as soon as symptoms of poisoning were noticed.

Grey Camp in Barnard, the club organized largely by local men, has a well-established trout pond and will probably begin fishing next season. Thirty-five thousand fry have been placed in the waters there in the past year or two. A substantial log house is now being erected in the woods by the shore of the pond for the occasional use of fishing parties who want to be nearer the scene of operations than the farm house on the property. It is about 15x23 feet, with two rooms on the first floor and sleeping quarters above.

A special town meeting is called for Saturday, Aug. 13, "to see if the town will provide additional accommodation for the present school in the village or Woodstock." Woodstock's handsome school building seems to have been erected for the immediate needs of the town, and without thought for a possible future increase in population. For a year or two it answered all needs, but since then has been overcrowded and for the past year one grade has occupied a room in the Billings' block. How this can be made suitable for school use is not apparent; additional room at the school building seems to be a better solution of the difficulty.
